

It is Advent. And once again the church reminds us that life is not linear, but circular. As we move forward, we also somehow return again and again to where we have been before. As we gather during this Advent season to wait for the coming of Jesus, we are invited to see the nonlinear, messy timelines of our lives gathered again into God's time. Before we get ahead of ourselves (to Christmas), let us take four weeks to wonder for a moment what kind of ending we hope this new beginning will be.

On December 4th, following worship, we will gather in Fellowship Hall for an Advent Festival. This time will help us prepare for Jesus coming by not rushing to Christmas, but spending time in wonder and delight as we light a candle in our hearts window to await Jesus.
