

In the gospel for this coming Sunday, Jesus' call of his disciples is like light shining into the darkness. Our baptism is one such light. Jesus' disciples immediately turn their lives inside out to follow him, and we all know, following Jesus is not always easy.

Come to worship, to hear again the call and to rejoice in the light who is Christ, and then be prepared to choose to focus on following Jesus and loving God's people.

Following worship join others in Fellowship Hall for coffee and conversation. This week we will continue our discussion on navigating into the future.
